

KA101 ERASMUS+ COURSES FOR HEADMASTERS, TEACHERS AND SCHOOL STAFF
TACKLING BULLYING AND CYBERBULLYING AT SCHOOL

Objectives of the course

The main objective of the proposed training course is to develop skills for dealing with bullying and the recent and particularly worrying phenomena of cyberbullying. The course aims at providing strategies to manage effective interventions in different school contexts.

The training provides the necessary skills to:

- learn the general aspects about these issues, specifically in the complex Italian context, but we will be able to take a look at the European contexts too;
- focus on the differences between bullying and cyberbullying and their effects in school context;
- train with the most effective interventions and practice exercises;
- promote personal problem solving abilities on specific situations;
- promote group working skills and project works.

Target groups

The "Tackling bullying and cyberbullying at school" training course is addressed to headmasters, school inspectors, teachers, VET teachers and trainers, educators in different school levels who wish to acquire the skills for implementing new strategies at school level for dealing with bullying and cyberbullying situations.

The Trainers

The Trainer is an educational psychologist with hands-on experience in school interventions about bullying and cyberbullying.

Language of the course: English
